WEDNESDAY JUNE 5 1895

The New York Herald after examining the platform adopted by the Ohio Republicans remarks that if the party remains true to the currency it will certainly receive a natural law on the line of protection It would indeed and it is exactly for this reason that no sensible person believes the result of the election next year The people are sick and tired of the mad smashing deficit breeding policy that has been running the country for the last two years

Of Altgeld the Anarchist who is now disgracing the state of Illinois the Chicago Tribune says with a full approval of the decision in the Debs case Anything that Altgeld dislikes is pretty sure to be the very thing that is right and law abiding and just We have had a mighty good deal of Hell but even he is not entirely without the salvation of Altgeld's friendship It is more than his prison

It is not all the Democratic statesmanship of Illinois to defy the Supreme Court of the United States Democratic Governor Altgeld of Illinois pardons the Anarchists who were convicted of murder in connection with the Haymarket riot in Chicago in 1886 and who were sentenced to death by the Illinois courts Governor Altgeld declares that the trial was unfair and that the men were convicted on insufficient evidence The Supreme Court of the United States refused to interfere with the execution of the sentence and the men were hanged Governor Altgeld now pardons the survivors of the men who defied the Supreme Court of the United States and who were hanged by the order of the Illinois courts

The Boston papers say that the Democratic State Committee of Illinois has decided to make party issue on the currency question when the party meets in convention at Springfield to-day It is said that there have been over five hundred applications for admission to the convention and that the committee will limit the representation of each county to the number of votes cast for Governor Altgeld in 1892 This will practically shut out Democrats who are in favor of sound money

Our Naval Fleet

The Bureau of Navigation has issued a statement showing the number of vessels in the United States Navy at present and the number that will be added to the fleet during the next five years when the vessels now under construction are completed It is to be hoped that the Bureau's forecast will prove correct but it is extremely doubtful if Congress will grant the money necessary to build and maintain the ships

In connection with the Navy Department's statement of the number of vessels in the fleet during the next five years it is interesting to note what Germany is doing in the way of building up her navy Germany has a population of 50,000,000 and a foreign trade of $2,000,000,000 a year Her navy consists of 11 first class battleships 8 coast defense vessels 9 large cruisers 26 small cruisers and 11 gunboats Besides this she has 10 first class battleships 3 coast defense vessels 9 large cruisers 26 small cruisers and 11 gunboats under construction

Germany has a coast line of 1,500 miles on the North Sea and 1,000 miles on the Baltic Sea Her navy is not large enough to blockade the coast of the United States but it is large enough to blockade the coast of Great Britain and France and to keep a fleet of hard capped vessels in the Baltic Sea Germany has always had the supply of coal and this was furnished by the mines of Westphalia and Silesia Germany has the ocean for that purpose and could be easily defended by a navy quite adequate for protection was of course would be the number of vessels for which

Our contributor asks about New York as a port for foreign vessels carrying coal in case of war with Great Britain The greatest calibre could get coal in any part of the city It costs $100 or $50 for very large cargoes of these figures which is a very expensive proceeding After all the whole thing would run short if too many coal burners were in a hurry and different ways They would be compelled to keep up steam constantly in order to move at a moment's notice It would be continuously on the alert and it would rapidly consume their supply of fuel The Government could purchase scores if necessary, of speedy steam yachts from private individuals and fit them out with torpedo tubes and send them against the enemy at night when they would be ill prepared for such an attack.

As to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington New Orleans and cities similarly situated from the sea an enemy's ship could practically do nothing Their great vessels draw so much depth of water that they must run squarely in the channel in the harbors of all this cities in order to approach within firing distance We could easily block the channel by sinking a few schooners loaded with coal at a point sufficiently distant to keep them out of range We might get them into a trap by sinking other vessels in their rear and thus hemming them in So our sea coast is not as defenceless as some of our alarmists would have us believe

"On the great lakes should an enemy's vessels get through, we would be at a disadvantage. While we have scores of fast sailing, propellers that might be utilized, we have unfortunately no rapid-fire guns with which to arm them. Under these circumstances the lake cities might suffer more from a foreign war than those of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans."

Blount Suggested.

Now that political gossip is busy in connection with the Cabinet vacancy the Rochester Chronicle suggests Paramount Blount as a man well fitted to comply with President Cleveland's idea of a Secretary of State It says

There is one logical possibility for the vacancy in the State Department His name is Blount and his front designation is Paramount He was sent to Hawaii some time ago to investigate matters or rather to put in black and white certain conclusions that had been reached in the White House before he had left Washington Blount's report might have been written at Buzzard's Bay as well as at Honolulu, but there was probably an idea that there would be an air of greater plausibility about it if dated from the latter place

Blount described the situation in a way exactly as he knew Cleveland wanted him to describe it regardless of any correspondence between the despatches and the facts Also by virtue of the paramount authority conferred upon him he hauled down the American flag Furthermore in obedience to secret instructions he did his utmost to discredit and embarass the government to which he was accredited

All these things make Blount an ideal diplomat of the Cleveland variety As Secretary of State he would be a howling success from the Cleveland stand point It is quite likely that his appointment would cause some howling by patriotic Americans nevertheless, he is the logical man for the place according to the standards of the present Administration Secretary Blount Who dares to say that the wires will not flash that little from the inner sanctuary at Washington to an expectant public?

DISASTROUS DISASTER.

The Water in Medicine Valley Causes Great Damage.

Fields Flooded and Crops of Every Description Engulfed.

Small Buildings Washed Away and Lives of Whole Families in Great Danger.

CHEYENNE Neb June 4 The water in Medicine Valley began to recede yesterday and some idea of the flood and damage it caused to Curtis Lode bursting its banks can be ascertained It is even more serious than at first supposed and the amount of damage will approach $100,000 Most of the damage is to crops where the fields were flooded The enormous flood of water that has passed into the lake during the past five days was too heavy for the dam The railroad company's loss is about $25,000 Farm products of every description were engulfed and in many instances where the homes of the miners were in the immediate vicinity of the valley the disaster was almost ruinous Small buildings were washed away or undermined in such a manner as to be rendered worthless and in some sections the water rose so rapidly as to seriously endanger the lives of whole families

THE CURRENCY QUESTION

The Bitter Fight Between the Two Factions in Illinois About Concluded

CHICAGO June 4 Throughout Illinois especially outside of Cook County the fight has been bitter between the advocates and opponents of free silver coinage within the Democratic party As the State convention goes to-morrow at Springfield the preliminary work of the silver men is four conceded It is submitted by the gold standard men that the convention will easily put through a platform It is understood Governor Altgeld Secretary of State Henrichsen and other leaders of the Illinois Democracy who have nothing to lose thereby intend to make an open fight on President Cleveland, Senator Palmer and other Democrats in office who represent the gold with silver element Seven contested ordinarily Catholic Democratic Congressional districts elect delegates for free coinage

Annie M Brewer Charged with Shooting Oldeon W Latimer on Trial in Salem

SALEM, Mass, June 4. This morning at the opening of the superior criminal court, the jury, in the manslaughter case of Annie M Brewer, of Lynn, charged with shooting Oldeon W Latimer, Dec 18, last, went to Lynn by special electric car for a view and on their return the taking up of evidence will be begun. It is understood that the defence will be that the shot, fired by all, were fired in self defence, and District attorney Moody in his opening particularly asked the jury to note that one ball was found imbedded in the front door of the house at the foot of the stairs as showing that that shot was fired as Latimer was running away and must have been fired from the head of the stairs, the firing party having come out of the room where the first shots were fired.

A Weak Stomach

Should not be abused, even if the disturber is called a medicine. Many men and women, and often children, dread taking medicine, so much needed at this season of the year, "because it upsets my stomach." Mrs H. R BROWN, 47 Harvard St CHELSEA, felt, as is natural to all, that the system at times an alterative. She had pains in her back; drowsiness so that she would almost fall asleep at the table. The Liver and Kidneys caused trouble. All of the many troubles she had tried only made her sick, her stomach was so weak She says she first found the medicine which will not offend even the feeblest stomach.

One of the workmen at a place in St George known as the Woods put 11 pounds of powder in a stove for safe keeping, Friday, the stove being in a small house to which the men resort at noon to warm and eat their dinners The next day a boy built a fire as usual and soon after eight men ate dinner there, lingering in and around the place until one o'clock. In the afternoon, somebody threw the contents of the powder and went to look for it The hoops had fallen off the keg it was in, and the keg itself had fallen apart so that the powder spread over the stove. Some of it was in a tin pail which was unsoldered, and a piece of fuse had the tin tried out of it Why it was not set on fire is the mystery that is now the chief topic of conversation down that way

Contractor R L Proctor, of Waterville is telling a joke upon himself, though it came near being a serious affair Mr Proctor has been the assistant engineer of the fire department the past year and for convenience in hearing the alarms he had put into his house a "call boy" run by electricity Wednesday evening word was received that the Supreme Court had rendered its decision in the Waterville city clerk case, as reported in the Journal The decision threw out all Republicans holding minor offices and that same night about eleven o'clock a very heavy thunder storm struck the city and lightning entered Mr Proctor's house upon the "call boy" circuit burning it out and ruining it, thus taking from the house the magnets of Mr Proctor's office as engineer Four times the lightning came in yet only in ringing the alarm box though its shock was felt by both Mr and Mrs Proctor.

Corbett Fitzsimmons Fight May Come Off.

D A Stewart, of Dallas, Texas, representatives of the Dallas syndicate that will endeavor to pull off the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, met Joe Vendig, of the Florida Athletic Club in New York, Monday Mr Vendig announced that he had placed $5,000 in the hands of Al Smith, final stake holder, as a guarantee that the fight could be brought off in Dallas, Texas If, through any fault of the club the fight is declared off, this money will be divided equally between the pugilists

Corbett deposited $5 000 to guarantee his appearance in the ring, and expressed a willingness to fight at Dallas. The only preliminary lacking is Fitzsimmons' $5,000 deposit This will be forthcoming during the next day It is not really necessary for the money to be put up as Vendig says he will be satisfied if Fitzsimmons can get some good man to give his word that Fitzsimmons will be on hand, fit and well, at the time appointed for the contest.

The date chosen is in the last week of the State Fair, as it is hoped to secure an immense local crowd by holding the contest while the fair is on. The men behind the venture have brought legal advice and they have been informed there is a law against boxing in the State. Before the men enter the ring the full amount of the purse offered, $41,000, will be put in the final stake-holders' hands The men have already received $1,000 for training expenses, and it now looks as if the fight will come off on the date fixed.

The case against John Fahey for the alleged robbery of M. S Haskell was continued before the Municipal Court yesterday forenoon

John Barry testified that he sat outside the Windsor Saturday night with Fahey and he did not think Fahey went inside during the evening Fahey had on dark clothes and a light soft hat, he said

Charles Sumner testified that he did not see Fahey in the Windsor barroom Saturday night, neither did he see Haskell, Grant nor Rhodes Upon leaving the hotel about 11 o'clock he saw Fahey sitting outside by the fence They walked down street together He didn't remember telling Officer Ladd that Fahey was in the Windsor barroom Saturday night

Mrs Fahey, mother of the prisoner, testified that her son did not have a light suit of clothes

The defense stopped here and more witnesses were summoned for the government side

Hadley Rhodes repeated his statements concerning the presence of Fahey at the Windsor Saturday night and said he had previously seen Fahey about the streets wearing a high narrow brimmed straw hat

Officer Maude testified that at about 4 30 o'clock Sunday afternoon Rhodes and another young man spoke to him and pointed out Fahey who was some distance up the street and said that fellow was concerned in the robbery He told them that Fahey had already been arrested and was out on bonds He had not noticed Fahey in a light suit though, he had worn a dark grey one

Officer Ladd testified that he saw and talked with Charles Sumner in the guard room at City Hall Sumner said he was no thief or robber and did not believe Haskell had any money anyway Sumner told Officer Ladd that he and Fahey went into the Windsor bar and after having some liquor went out

Officer O'Leary testified that he saw Fahey sitting outside the Windsor about 9 30 o'clock on Saturday night At about 10 30 o'clock he saw a man in the Windsor who told him he had been robbed He went in to the Windsor and found the bar room door locked, met the bar tender outside and he said he had no knowledge of the robbery saw another young man in the hotel who said he saw Haskell show three ten dollar bills

Officer Bowen testified that the bar tender in the Windsor told him that his bar was not closed till perhaps 10 10 o'clock on Saturday night He admitted that there was a scuffle in the room and that Haskell might have been thrown to the floor

At the conclusion of the testimony Mr Robinson made his argument and when he had finished Judge Vose sent for County Attorney Bailey, to confer with him on the case Meanwhile Clerk F A Adams read another charge against Fahey, that of the larceny of five dollars from one Charles H Bean of East Bangor, at Six Mile Falls The offence was alleged to have occurred last March when Fahey is alleged to have worked the flim flam game on Bean, by getting him mixed up in changing a $10 bill and getting $3 too much change The difficulty in identifying the prisoner prevented his earlier arrest Judge Vose found Fahey guilty of the latter charge fining him $10 and costs, from which Attorney Robinson appealed

On the first charge the judge found probable cause and found the prisoner over in $ 00 to the August term of court Fahey secured bail and was released

A Temperance Town

Hoyt's famous play "A Temperance Town" will be presented at the Opera House to morrow and Friday nights In the play the author does not attempt to preach a sermon, nor draw conclusions for any one in his audience, but simply presents the question in his satirical vein, evolving his story with a lot of goodfun In fact "A Temperance Town," Mr Hoyt has taken the question of prohibition which through many and diverse magazines newspaper articles and through the medium of the lecture platform has been widely discussed and has posed the question with his satirical and jolly penknife (so to speak) with a result that we have a fine comedy

Messrs Hoyt and Thomas will not let any chance for improvement slip and the result is that the company which will be seen here and which is the original Boston cast is their best one a fact which is at once recognized when it is noticed that the cast is headed by such well known favorites as Fred Stockwell and Jed Prouty

MUNICIPAL OFFICERS.

Hearing Granted the Dirigo Telephone Company of Maine and Public Works and Street Railway Company.

The Municipal Officers held a meeting last evening for the purpose of granting hearings on several matters The first one was that of the application of the Dirigo Telephone Company, of Maine, for a permit to erect lines of telephone poles, and to lay wires under ground for telephone purposes, in and upon the streets of Bangor General Manager S C Beedy, of the company, of Farmington, was present and was heard on the subject

He said that he wished to correct a mistake This is not the company that recently sold out in Augusta, but a Maine company Mr Beedy is the inventor of seven patents which the company controls, and a company organized in 1883 applied for a charter in the Legislature and were granted a charter Mr Beedy read the charter to the Board A complaint was filed against this company by the Bell Company and it was combined against using its appliances In March, 95, a decision was rendered by the United States Court which left the company free to use the telephone system which it proposes to introduce He stated that it would furnish a system at 50 cents per week, and the principal object is to provide subscribers with long distance transmitters and connect them thereby with outside towns as well as with local subscribers The company wants to put in the conduit system along the curbing without tagging the streets deeper than 14 inches

The underground system gives better service, and the trouble caused by induction is wholly done away with The company merely wished a permit and is willing to submit to any regulations the city may make If granted a permit operations would be commenced at once

The subject matter was tabled until the next meeting and the opinion of the city solicitor will be obtained as to what rights the city may grant in laying subways to

Hon F M Laughton then appeared for the Public Works Company and Street Railways in support of the petition for a permit to establish its railway in Centre street the whole length and through Park street and East Market square He said the proposed route would save three minutes in running time, accommodate more people give better service to the old patrons of the road and remove a source of danger in running Cumberland street hill

Objection was made by residents on the line of the proposed location represented by Mr C Tyler The hearing was on the question of granting right to erect poles and maintain wires thereon, the right of location or permit to run the railway on the specified streets, to be granted by the city council In answer to the remonstrance a petition intended for the city council, and signed by the principal property holders, was read by Mr Laughton, There was quite an interesting discussion on the matter between the petitioners and the remonstrants, but the remonstrants seemed to be in the majority

An order was passed granting a permit to the company as prayed for

Report of City Engineer on probable cost and assessments for a sewer in Jones Court accepted and hearing ordered to be granted on the 12th of June to all persons interested

FOOD TALKS

By Mrs Etta Morse Hudders

Mrs Etta Morse Hudders, who is to give a series of food talks at the Unitarian Memorial Parlors, began yesterday at 11 A M with a general lecture which was heard by a large number of ladies She said the people must be educated up to the point of providing themselves with the proper foods and taking suitable care of their bodies

The diet and exercise were particularly referred to by Mrs Hudders as of great importance Physical training should begin at an early age for children are frequently unevenly developed and it is wrong that there should be allowed to grow up in the condition Exercise is harder to correct the faults which might have been remedied if taken in time

The brain grows most rapidly in the two first years of life, but there is no need to worry over the brain, which gives the impulse to the nervous system Exercise is needed to get it begin in childhood and give the children plenty of it without overdoing

The effect of the different foods upon the system is as yet an undeveloped science, although we know some of the effects

For instance raw berries and tomatoes are not considered as good in cases of rheumatism or a beef in similar conditions Sugar tastes as it does produce fat

Mrs Hudders then gave an analysis of different foods and covered the subject very completely She was heard with great interest and profit

Miss Fogler was also present and answered questions with her well known ability and command of extensive information

Thursday a. 3 M Mrs Hudders will talk upon Digestion and nutrition

GREELEY AS A BOY.

HE LOVED TRUTH AND WAS WALLOPED FOR HIS INTEGRITY

The Famous Journalist Acquired Knowledge Early Through Great Tribulation. Scaggs, "a Child of the Devil," Was Kind to the Boy Who Wanted to Learn.

The oft told and praiseworthy story about the sterling quality of George Washington's truthfulness when a lad and the straightforward confession "I cannot tell a lie, father, I did it with my little hatchet," that have made the Father of His Country the idol of boyish hearts stands not alone as an example of American youthful integrity

Another lad whose punishment as keenly dreaded confronted him and a father more irate than George's parents ever pictured to have been, stood boldly forth when questioned and acknowledged himself the culprit This other boy was Horace Greeley and the story is an interesting one

It happened in the town of Erie, Pa, where Horace spent a great part of his boyhood The lad was unusually precocious and at the age of 10 years was considered the prodigy of the town He was a great reader and eagerly devoured anything in the way of useful literature that came in his way His father was a poor man and Horace had not many chances for mental culture but so keen was the boy's love of study and ambition for knowledge that he used to visit by stealth an old musty bor who possessed a handsome and finely stocked library This old fellow was to the mind of Horace a father, the essence of all that was irreligious His name was Scaggs —Nathaniel Scaggs—and despite his quiet method of living and his acknowledged honesty of character he remained, to Mr Greeley's mind a vile and hardened sinner Old Scaggs rarely attended any place of worship and on pleasant Sunday afternoons could always be seen sitting in his front garden boldly smoking his corncob pipe Those were the causes of Mr Greeley's condemnation and he dubbed the old scholar a child of the devil

But Scaggs had taken a fancy to the bright faced Horace and invited the boy to his home After the first visit and a glimpse of that wonderful storehouse of books Horace could not stay away He knew his father hated old Scaggs and called him a "lost soul" and he realized if his visits to their neighbor reached his ears that his father would instantly prohibit his calls

At the same time old Scaggs kindness had won his heart His wisdom had gained his admiration and he felt the injustice of his father's dislike toward his old friend Leaden, the old man was teaching him Latin and opening daily to the boyish mind fields of thought and speculation and pointing out with care and patience philosophic truths so eagerly listened to by young Horace

Once in the middle of a lesson of Cicero while the two were engaged in their daily reading, the boy stopped short and exclaimed Mr Scaggs my father doesn't like you He says you are a child of the devil

The old man was silent for a minute and then burst out laughing

Why does your father dislike me Horace he asked

Well you don't go to meeting you know sir and then you smoke your pipe on Sunday

Yes I do my boy but I did not know that was a crime Sunday sorry your father dislikes me on both counts go on with Cicero And then the old man continued That night Horace Greeley made up his mind to speak to his father and make a plea for old Scaggs friendship Accordingly just before bedtime Horace accosted his father

Father is not God the enemy he asked

Yes my son Why do you ask

Does he not forgive much to those who are kind and patient

Why do you ask still inquired the father

Well I think Mr Scaggs is both kind and patient and I somehow hoped the good God would overlook his smoking and not count it meddling The old man at once grew stern and questioned young Horace regarding his acquaintance for the past few months and finally satisfied himself that Scaggs was a child of the devil and that his visits must be stopped at once

And so Horace was forbidden to visit the old scholar although the lad's thirst for knowledge and studies was brought to light Mr Greeley forbade his son to go to Scaggs again denounced Latin Greek as pagan reading and thundered the ban with the strap

Horace Greeley after he got to be the editor of a big New York newspaper used to tell the story with much feeling

After having forbidden Scaggs companionship Horace went and told the old man that he was grieved but did not like to say my father The next day I was with my father at the usual hour and after prostrating him I would tell my father of my visit our lesson went on as usual Then I went home and told my dad what had developed Not for a week I continued my visits to my old preceptor and each night I received a thrashing as one severe as each time At the end of the week I had to attend to my whipping up Then my father had to go for a few days and would let me go to Vermont in less than a fortnight Yes I slipped out and bade old Scaggs goodby The old man was tearful as I gave my the worn volumes of Cicero as a parting gift. Of course I got a licking for that visit also but I had gained a friend and had my beloved Latin to order but toned tightly beneath my waistcoat I honored my father always Mr Greeley concluded but I never forgave him those lickings He was a bloody Presbyterian and could not tolerate Sabbath breaking. He was a mighty good man, but when I think of those whippings" —and then Mr Greeley used to squirm much to the delight of his listeners —New York Recorder

A Railroader's Prayer

A railroad man is responsible for the following prayer

O Lord now that I have flagged thee, lift my feet from off the road of life and plant them surely on deck of the train of salvation! Let me use the safety lamp known as prudence make all couplings in this train with the strong link of thy love and let my lamp be the Bible And, heavenly Father keep all switches closed that lead off on the sidings, especially those with a blind end! O Lord if it be thy pleasure, have every semaphore block along the line to show the white light of hope that I may make the run of life without stopping And Lord, give us the Ten Commandments as a schedule, and when I have finished the run, and have on schedule time pulled into the great station of death, may thou, the Superintendent of the Universe, say with a smile Well done thou good and faithful servant. Come and sign the pay roll and receive your check for eternal happiness —Rehoboth Sunday Herald

Equal to the Emergency

An old admiral well known for his power of exaggeration was describing a voyage at supper one night. While cruising in the Pacific," he said, "we passed an island which was positively red with lobsters."

"Dat" said one of the guests, smiling incredulously lobsters are not red until boiled

"Of course not," replied the undaunted admiral, "but this was a volcanic island with boiling springs"—Pearson's Weekly

Baldness.

Men become bald more frequently than women because of the closeness of the hats they wear, which keep the head too hot, induce perspiration and weaken the hair The boys of the famous Blue Coat schools of London, who never wear hats, never become bald late in life

Robespierre had a thin face, sharp nose, narrow forehead and small mouth, with thin lips. He always dressed neatly and was often mistaken for a department clerk or bookkeeper.

Denmark was at first Denmark, or the mark or limit set by Dan, a Scandinavian chief who claimed jurisdiction over its territories

BADGER AND SUCKER

The Way Illinois and Wisconsin Came to Get Their Nicknames

If there had been no badgers in Wisconsin," said a native of that state, "Wisconsin would not be known as the Badger State, and yet it did not receive the name because badgers were there There were very few white people in Wisconsin territory in its early days, the population being confined to the military posts the missionary and trading stations, and the lead mining regions in the southwestern part of the territory The miners were of two classes men who worked the mines all the year round and men who came up from the Illinois country in the spring and worked until the fall when they returned to their prairies and groves. The miners who were permanent dwellers in the ground didn't bother to put up cabins or even huts In fact material for such dwellings was not abundant They simply dug holes in the sides of the hills large enough to give them room to sleep and cook in Now as lays those burrows would perhaps be called dugouts, but as they closely resembled the subterranean homes of the badgers they were promptly called badger holes and the miners who occupied them were called badgers

"Any one who goes to tramp through that part of Wisconsin today will come upon deep excavations in the rocks—regular quarry holes bearing every evidence of having been made long ago And so they were Some of them were excavated 60 years ago and later They were the work of the lead miners who went up from Illinois in the spring to the mining region They bought there only for a short season did not mine by digging shafts as the permanent miners did nor did they live in burrows They blasted the surface rock in long large pits by their work striking what was called the first lead and for that was easily obtained near the top They occupied the pits they made the other miners did their subsidence was

"Owing to the similarity of the migrations of those gray miners to those of that familiar fish which goes up stream in the spring and down again in the fall they soon became known as suckers and their pits as their leads were called such Miles in the course of years the name Badger State became to be applied to the entire people of Wisconsin and Illinois Many of the original badgers are honored citizens of their respective states and help to make the state's history When Wisconsin was admitted to the Union the legislature of Illinois by a concurrent resolution requested Congress to change the name of the latter state from Illinois to Sucker State and it was from the miners quarried in the rocks of Wisconsin and Illinois that New York and

Mr Wells generosity has become proverbial Just where his gifts in this line have been most conspicuous it is difficult to say

It was during the days of the Civil War that a banker of Indianapolis was visiting that city when he heard a wounded soldier in great fancy talk with the surgeon who was dressing the great gash in the man's leg The banker was shocked to hear the surgeon say

How shall I stitch it up sir

Stitch it up exclaimed the soldier with a lady pray Then in a more manly tone Finally he prays it is unpleasant to me But stitch away sir I am ready for the operation

He drew a deep breath and set his teeth The surgeon began to sew

Her name was Sarah Jane Smith and a stormy sea was in which she was tossed three days before she came to anchor in Portland harbor

Good heavens exclaimed the banker Sarah Jane Smith Why that is my wife's name

And so it was

The banker was so much interested in the case that he went to the hotel where the wounded soldier was staying and found that he was a Portland boy and that his mother lived in Deering

The banker went to Deering and found Mrs Smith a widow with a family of children in straitened circumstances

He told her of her son's wounds and of the kindness of the surgeon and then he told her that he had come to pay the mortgage on her home and that it was paid and the mortgage was hers

Mrs Smith was overcome with joy and gratitude

The banker then went to the hotel and told the soldier that his mother was the owner of her home and that the mortgage was paid

The soldier was overcome with joy and gratitude

Then the banker went to the surgeon and told him that his mother was the owner of her home and that the mortgage was paid

The surgeon was overcome with joy and gratitude

Then the banker
